Summary. Correspondence between the MDC in Miami and the MDC delegation in Puerto Rico, and a letter from Enrique Villareal de la Concepcion, MDC representative in Chile, indicates a difference of opinion within the organization concerning the MDC's views regarding the Chilean Christian Democratic Party and Eduardo Frei Montalva, President of Chile. Villareal re-

In a letter dated 29 July 1965 to the president of the Movimiento Democrata Christiano (MDC, Christian Democratic Movement) in Miami, the Puerto Rico delegation of the MDC set forth its views on what it considered a "conspiracy of silence" against Christian Democracy. It felt that the movement was being harmed by deliberate distortion of facts, and that the campaign was intensified by Chilean President Eduardo Frei Montalva's trip through Europe. The delegation took exception to statements about Cuba made by Frei, whom they considered ill-informed. The delegation did not feel that public statements should be made on this matter, but warned that Cubans should be alert concerning Frei. The delegation suggested that Frei should be censured by the national executive committee of the MDC.  A reply to the above letter, dated 10 August, addressed to Rene Villar, president of the Puerto Rico delegation and signed by Laureano Batista Falla, secretary of organizations, describered.

agreed with the Puerto Rico delegation's concern about the hostility toward the MDC in the press, and in political and religious circles, which it said was more intense in Miami than in Puerto Rico. The letter pointed out, however, that there has been a noticeable change in the attitude of United States Government officials toward the MDC; that the MDC is treated with more respect and consideration. This was attributed to the growing importance of Christian Democracy in international relations, due to Frei's triumph and his policy of "hemisperic transcendence."

According to the letter, the national executive committee of the MDC has been observing Frei's actions with growing alarm. Since Frei's inauguration in November 1964, the MDC has been inquiring about the Chilean Government's attitude toward Cuba, and trying to exert influence over that attitude. 'In interviews with Radomiro Tomic, Chilean Ambassador to the United States, Otto Boye, International Relations Secretary of the Chilean Partido Democrata Christiano (PDC, Christian Democratic Party) when he visited Miami, and with other leaders of the PDC, all said that Frei has not, and probably would not, make a policy statement on Cuba due to the complexity of the internal situation in Chile and because he would not act unilatorally in hemispheric matters. They claim that the statements attributed to Frei concerning Cuba are loose quotations from speeches intended for internal consumption which are exaggerated or quoted out of context by the press. The letter continued, that it was not advisable to take a public stand against the statements attributed to Frei as that would lead to a public debate with the PDC and as a result would place other parties of the Christian Democrat Organization of America (ODCA) in a position of having to support one or the other.

- 4. The letter said that the MDC must gather documentation on what Frei has said and written concerning Cuba, and assigned this task to the Puerto Rico delegation. This documentation could be studied at the next national congress, and from this documentation it might be possible to develop a good defense for Christian Democracy and the MDC. It warned that this problem must be handled with self-control and without emotion,
- 5. Even though the NDC does not like Frei's position, he is the first Christian Democrat to be elected president in the Americas, he has the popular support in Chile, and continues to gain in stature internationally. Also, he shows respect and sympathy toward the MDC. He is a responsible person and is not pro-Communist nor does he sympathize with the regime of Fidel Castro Ruz. It would be a disservice to Cuba and to the MDC if a split were provoked between the MDC and the PDC or with Frei, personally. On the contrary, the solution to the problem is a rapprochement because the MDC has faith in the PDC to understand the MDC's viewpoints when they are presented clearly.
- 6. In a letter dated 24 August 1965 to the president of the MDC, Enrique Villareal de la Concepcion, MDC delegate in Chile, said that he had received notice from Laureano Batista Falla, secretary of delegations of the MDC, that he (Villareal) would not represent the MDC at the ODCA meeting in Venezuela from 12 to 14 August because he worked in the international department of the PDC. He said that he had decided to resign from the MDC and continue his work in Chile and his work for the Latin American Confederation of Christian Sindicalists (CLASC). He said he felt it was impossible for him to do anything constructive for Cuba or for social-Christian Martin advancement in the MDC. He said that Cubans, instead of which didn't materialize, or engaging in group struggles, should become associated with the Latin American revolutionary process. Besides watching Cuban interests, they could contribute to the process? which will accelerate the liberation of Cuba. He considered it a grave error for the majority of members of the executive committee to live in Miami, when the future of Cuba is more closely tied to the future of Latin America. He said that the policy makers of the MDC have lost all objectivity, have become distrustful, and imagine enemies and disloyalty everywhere. He closed by saying that he intended no personal criticism, only political criticisms.

3. Followers of Batista who attended the Congress said that they bad formed a block in the Organizacion Democrata Cristiano de America (ODCA, Christian Democratic Organization of America) with parties of other countries which agree with the stand of the MDC on international affairs. This bloc includes the parties of Brazil, Peru, Venezuela and Colombia. They plan to compel the Chilean party and others to take a more definite stand against Communism and the regime of Fidel Castro Ruz.

Members of the Military Sector of the NDC met with the delegates to the Congress on 29 August. Angel Hernandez Rojo asked that the military budget be increased from $750.00 (U.S.) per month to $70,000 per year, and that a base be established in Central or South America, regardless of the distance from Miami. He said that the MDC had sabotage and demolition_men and equipment ready to operate in four provinces of Cuba, and that a team of frogmen, which was completing training in Puerto Rico, would be ready to operate "in a few days". He said that they could not operate from the United States because of U.S. Customs, and that the political situation in the Dominican Republic makes it impossible to operate from the MDC base there. He added that two boats which were at the base in the Dominican Republic could not be used. Hernandez asked that each delegation establish a military nucleus, and said that he would visit each delegation to help organize the military element within two months. The members of the Puerto Rico delegation said that they would raise part of the $70,000 needed by the Military Sector.

A. Laurcano Batista: Batista is an Attorney, approximately 31 years old, who after completing study in Economics, is now engaged in Government graduate studies at the University of Miami. He is a member of one of Cuba's most prominent families, both in economic and social status. He presently receives financial aid from his family and provides financial support to the MDC. He started working with MDC in Cuba in 1959, and has continued in the organization. Jose Ignacio Ràsco, Batista and Ernesto Rodriguez have the best MDC international relations with other DC groups. Batista has been in charge of paramilitary activities, organization of doctrinal courses, delegations, otc. He is a key-figure in the MDC, not only in the present circumstances, but also in the future.

B. Jose Angel Ortega: Ortega is an attorney and approximately 45 years of age. Ortega was not engaged in politics in Cuba, but he had good social status. In exile he has become a key-figure in the MDC and actually controlled the MDC at one time when an internal rift between Jose I. Rasco and Ing. Melchor Gaston required a new man. He has remained in the executive committee since, and before this election he was President.

C. Jesus Angulo: Angulo came up from the ranks as leader of the MDC's youth section. He has taken part in several international meetings and congresses. He also participates in COJCE activities. He has a radical orientation and has little DC theoretical knowledge, but his devotion to the cause and his diligence have helped him gain importance within the MDC.

D. Guillermo Martinez: Martinez, known to friends as "Bibi" is also a key-figuro in the MDC. He is completely devoted to the cause. Although an attorney by profession, in his late thirties, he makes a living by working in a factory. The rest of his time is devoted to the MDC. He is in charge of propaganda production, being the only one with knowledge to handle the multilith machine; lay-outs, etc. At the same time he is attempting to organize the Finance section, and he was re-elected to head this department.

E. Jose Cenal: Cenal, known to friends as "Pepin" is an attorney. He is from Oriente Province and is approximately 40 years od. Cenal is a key-figure in the MDC and, according to some who know him well, could become a political figure in a free Cuba. Cenal has been employed as a salesman for "Fine Arts Co." Financial problems have forced him to limit his MDC activities at present. He, however, will not retire from the MDC, but he will temporarily withdraw from a very active participation in MDC affairs.

F. Ernesto Rodriguez: Rodriguez, known to MDC people as Ion Ernesto, is a businessman in his sixtics. In Miami he operates the Caribbean Import-Export Co., and has also become a prominent figure within the MDC. His personal status, which permits him to travel, has given him the opportunity to attend many international DC meetings, thus providing him with very good contacts. Also a former MDC Presidentthe same as Batista, Cenal, and Ortega -- he remains active, although his health, due to age, limits his effectiveness. He is one of the MDC moderates with Ortega.

G. Jose M. Illan: Illan, a new member, is definitely an asset to the MDC. He is an attorney and an economist, presently in his early forties. He was an Economics Professor at LaSalle University in Havana, and in 1959 he became one of the Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury (sub-secretario de Hacienda) under Dr. Rufo Lopez Fresquet. He formerly worked for AIP and in the Institute of Catholic Social Studies with Father Salvador de Cistierna. He left the Miami area but has recently returned, again working for AIP, and, at the same time has become an MDC executive. Within the MDC, Illan could become a leading figure. Previou to the MDC, Illan was a member of Movimiento Revolucionario del Pueblo (MRP) in Cuba and in exile. Subsequently, he became an independent and had remained in that position until his present MDC position.

H. Antonio Fernandez Nuevo; Fernandez Nuevo, known as "Tonito", is also a new "recruit" who represents an asset for the MDC. Fernandez, similar to Illan, had been approached by the MDC in the past in order to invite him into the organization. Fernandez Nuevo, now in his late thirties, rose from the ranks of the "Accion Catholica de Cuba" (AC) to become President of JEC (Juventud Estudiantil Catholica, a student branch with AC) in 1957-58. Although non-political, he was known for his anti-Batista attitude. In 1959, with other friends of AC, he became a follower of the new revolutionary government. During 1959 he refused to take an active part in anti-Communist activities, but late in 1960 he joined the MRP. In exile he remained in MRP, but finally he withdrew and became an independent. He has very good contacts among Catholic groups, especially youth organizations, and his name could the be exploited among certain circles, both in exile and within Cuba.

I. Ricardo Garcia: Garcia was re-elected to head MDC's youth section, but actually he has assumed Angulo's former position. Garcia is in his early twenties.

INTERVENCION EN ASUNTOS INTERNOS. El M.D.C. do Cuba de abstiche de caltir juicio cobre la cituación política interna de la Ropública Bominicana por carecor de elemente de juicio suficientes para ello y no tener necese directo a la opinión de les dirigentes responsables del Partido Revolucionario Secial Cristiano (P.R.S.C.) únicos a nuestro juicio, autorizados para calificar los acontecimientes recientes en su país. El N.D.C. do Cuba sólo compte como válidos los juicios emitidos sobre la situación interne de un país que provengan del partido deméento cristiano de ese país, miembre de O.D.C.A.

FUENTES DE NUESTROS DATOS. Estos dates y aprociacionos co originan en los informos que hemes recibido de los deméarata oristianos oubanos emilados en Santo Domingo que hen sido evacuados en días pasados; de las Delegaciónos del M.D.C. de Cuba en Puerto Rico y Nueva York; de fuentos de intelligencia elendostinas dentro de Cuba; y del Sr. José Sémes Corda, Secretario de Organización de la Confederación Autónema (C.A.S.C.) efiliatienos de la Depública Deminicana (C.A.S.C.) efiliada a la C.E.A.S.C. que a su paso por Miemi nos inforho emplicamento sobre la situación de las fuerzas sooieleristianos en el país.

Dobido a los fuentos proplas de información de que dispone el N.D.C. de Cuba sebre ciertos aspestos de la cuestión deminicuna y du la visión de los procesos revolucionarios y de la forma de astuni del comunicas en ellos que la desgraciada experioneia de Cuba nos ha proporcienado, ercevos estar en la oblignación includible de destacar algunos aspectos de la ciemación quizas desconocidos para los propios deminicanos, y recomendar medidas tendentes a referier la posición de las fuerzas coetalcristionas en la República Deminicana. A elle nos obliga el principio de la solidaridad internacional que debe regir las relaciones catro todos los partides que integran la 0.D.C.A.

A nucetro juicio emisto un poligro, cierto y prómino, do que el nevimiento revolucionario que derreco el régimen del Triunvirato pueda eser bajo la influencia, preseteriormento, bajo el control de los organismos comunistas deminicanos.

Esta opinión so basa en los siguientos hochos: a) Los fuerzas robeldes, representadas en el país por el Corelel Conneño, cuentan para defenderse contra el ateque de las fuerzas militares mandadas por el Coneral Messia, den una militar eivil armeda, de escara ergenicación y minero indeterminado, que equpa los barrios más contricos de la euidad de Sente

SOURCE: A young Cuban exile who has been trained in information collection. His past reporting has been accurate but lacks depth. This information was obtained from a member of the MDC.

- 1. On 8 April 1965, Otto Boyer, foreign relations secretary of the Chilean Christian Democratic Party, arrived in Miani, Florida, for a one-day interview with members of the national executive committee of the Novimiento Democrata Cristiano (MDC, Christian Democratic Movement). Juan Manuel Salvat Roque, leader of the Directorio Revolucionario Estudiantil (DRE, Students' Revolutionary Directorate), was present for the interview. Boyer had just spont more than 30 days touring Central American countries in an effort to make direct contact with Christian Democratic Parties in that area.
- 2. After his introduction, Boyer briefly described the history of the Chilean Party from the day it was founded 30 years ago until its rise to power in 1964 with the election to the presidency of Eduardo Frei.
- 3. During the course of the interview, Boyer entertained polite but energetic questions from various members of the MDC. When he was asked why President Frei wanted to have commercial relations with the Communist countries, Boyer attempted to explain that the decision was not based on ideology but on economics. He said that Chile has a great need for hard currency and that if the United States can maintain commercial relations with the Communist countries, why can Chile not do so also. One of the HDC members remarked that by going to such an extreme, the Chileans were behaving like "Englishmen," and that it was immoral to establish relations based on such excuses.
- 4. Boyer was then asked if he believed in the solidarity of Christian democracy. He said that he did but added that to him the solidarity of Christian democracy in Latin America was more important. When he was asked when the MDC could expect weapons from Chile, Boyer explained that the Chilean Government could not give such aid because of international agreements with other nations, but that the Chilean Christian Democratic Party could provide this help. He said that this would be a matter to be discussed by the leaders of both the Chilean and Cuban Christian Democratic Parties.

5. Boyer concluded by proclaiming that the United States approved of all the social reforms undertaken by Chile, and that Chile in the end would help the Cuban exiles. Meanwhile, however, the most important thing to do was to establish intimate relations between the two parties. Boyer gave the impression that the Chilean Party was concerning itself doeply with the problems of the Cuban Party and wanted to cooperate in the liberation of Cuba.

The delegation from New York, composed of Guariane. Disc. Martin and Victor Batista Falla, did not arrive until 21 Felduary.

- Humberto Perez Herrera presented the report of the Puerto Riesen delegation, the highlights of which were as follows:
  - The activities of the MDC delegation in Fuerte Rice descreased considerably during the past six menths. This, he claimed, was due to the problems of the Christian Democrats in Chile and to the position taken by Eduardo Frei, President of Chile.
- b. The public activities of the MDC, such as the celebration of the anniversary of Jose Marti's birthday and the hemage paid to the Venezuelan portworkers for their boycott of ships trading with Cuba, as well as the campaign in favor of a Cuban Government in Exile, had helped to overcome much of the stagnation of the MDC in Puerto Rice.
- C. The Puerto Rican delegation differs from the Miami delegation in that it is made up of Cuban exiles of a higher financial standing than that of the average Cuban exile residing in Miami. The members of the Puerto Rican delegation contribute one percent of their income to the MDC.
- d. The MDC is concerned over the penetration of the Communist Party in the university and other centers of higher learning and some of the terrorist activities of the Communists. The MDC is also concerned over the attitude of the press regarding the terrorist activities and feels that the press has pro-Communist leanings.
- 5. Later in the same session Porez spoke of the great value of the Juventud Democrata Cristiana (JDC, Christian Democratic Youth) of Cuba in Puerto Rico and gave high praise to Montellu and Patterson. However, when there was a discussion in the congress about outlawing the Communist Party in a free Cuba, Monteliu and Patterson said the Party should be recognized as a legal party and should be allowed to engage in public activities. When certain mombers of the Miami delegation opposed this, Monteliu and Patterson accused the Miami delegation of being fascist.
- 6. The report of the Mexican delegation was presented by Carmon Villarea de Guzman and included the following points:
  - a. The Mexican delegation has 42 members. Relations between the different groups of Cuban exiles in Mexico are cordial; patriotic and public events are usually celebrated jointly.
  - b. The delegation is developing a plan for the establishment of radio courses about Christian Democratic doctrine, similar to those already established in Colombia and Honduras. As a result of arrangements made by the Mexican delegation, it was possible to have a two-hour weekly course on Christian economic doctrine given at the School of Economy of the University of Mexico, where a threehour course in Marxism is now being given.
  - c. Popular feeling in Mexico regarding the Cuban cause is favorable except among teachers and educators; this group is deeply penetrated by the Communist Party. Some favorable change in the attitude of the press has been noted, especially Guariono Diam Martinez presented the report from the New York 8. delugation. It was largely devoted to marrating the efforts made in support of a Cuban Government in Exile,

- Following are some of the resolutions approved during the congrast: 9.
  - Reduction in the number of members of the Sational Executive . a. Committee, thus increasing its mobility.
  - Establishment of new requirements for buing aligible for Ъ. olection to the National Executive Conmittee, such as hering taken a course in leadership or having sufficient leadership ability, in the opinion of the executive committee, with ... out having passed such a course.
  - Increased control by the executive committee over the C. activities of the delegations.
  - Compulsory participation of the executive committee in d. the financial collections of the delegations.
  - Establishment of a regulation that a member of the National 0. Executive Committee cannot belong to any delegation.
  - Elimination of the Military Secretariat and the establishf. ment of control over military activities by the president of the National Executive Committee. The military section of the MDC is to be directed by a person designated by the National Executive Committee who will formulate the plans, projects, and budget for military activities, presenting them for the approval of the president of the executive committee. Ho, in turn, will have to inform : the members of the committee only about those dotails which he deems pertinent and which do not compromise the success of the planned activities.

10. In discussing the topic, "Nuestra Postura" ("Our Position"), some changes were observed in relation to those approved at the previous congress, such as:

- Disappearance of the attitude of defiance against the United States Government. This was shown by the approval а. of the results obtained so far in United States policy towards Cuba.
- Rejection of the thes: s of the "Betrayed Revolution," b.
- Optimism regarding a plur solution of the Cuban problem. C.

The delegation from New York, composed of Guariane Diaz Martinez and Victor Batista Falla, did not arrive until 21 February.

delegation, the highlights of which were as follows:

a. The activities of the MDC delegation in Puerto Rico decreased considerably during the past six months. This, he claimed, was due to the problems of the Christian Democrats in Chile and to the position taken by Eduardo Frei, President of Chile.

b. The public activities of the MDC, such as the celebration of the anniversary of Jose Marti's birthday and the homage paid to the Venezuelan portworkers for their boycott of ships trading with Cuba, as well as the campaign in favor of a Cuban Government in Exile, had helped to overcome much of the stagnation of the MDC in Puerto Rico.

c. The Puerto Rican delegation differs from the Miami delegation in that it is made up of Cuban exiles of a higher financial standing than that of the average Cuban exile residing in Miami. The members of the Puerto Rican delegation contribute one percent of their income to the MDC.

d. The MDC is concerned over the penetration of the Communist Party in the university and other centers of higher learning and some of the terrorist activities of the Communists. The MDC is also concerned over the attitude of the press regarding the terrorist activities and feels that the press has pro-Communist leanings.

Later in the same session Perez spoke of the great value of the Juventud Democrata Cristiana (JDC, Christian Democratic Youth) of Cuba in Puerto Rico and gave high praise to Monteliu and Patterson. However, when there was a discussion in the congress about outlawing the Communist Party in a free Cuba, Monteliu and Patterson said the Party should be recognized as a legal party and should be allowed to engage in public activities. When certain members of the Miami delegation opposed this, Monteliu and Patterson accused the Miami delegation of being fascist.

- 6. The report of the Mexican delegation was presented by Carmen Villares de Guzman and included the following points:
  - a. The Mexican delegation has 42 members. Relations between the different groups of Cuban exiles in Mexico are cordial; patriotic and public events are usually celebrated jointly.
  - b. The delegation is developing a plan for the establishment of radio courses about Christian Democratic doctrine, similar to those already established in Colombia and Honduras. As a result of arrangements made by the Mexican delegation, it was possible to have a two-hour weekly course on Christian economic doctrine given at the School of Economy of the University of Mexico, where a threehour course in Marxism is now being given.

Popular feeling in Mexico regarding the Cuban cause is favorable except among teachers and educators; this group is deeply penetrated by the Communist Party. Some favorable change in the attitude of the press has been noted, especially after the scandal in the Cuban Embassy over the contraband in blood plasma, <sup>4</sup>

Carmon Villares proposed that a representative of the military section of the MDC visit Mexico. Without going into details which she described as confidential, she said there was a possibility that armed activities against the Castro régime could be carried out from Mexican territory.

Guarione Diaz Martinez presented the report from the New York delegation. It was largely devoted to narrating the efforts made in support of a Cuban Government in Exile.

9. Following are some of the resolutions approved during the congress:

- a. Reduction in the number of members of the National Executive Committee, thus increasing its mobility.
- b. Establishment of new requirements for being eligible for election to the National Executive Committee, such as having taken a course in leadership or having sufficient leadership ability, in the opinion of the executive committee, without having passed such a course.
- c. Increased control by the executive committee over the activities of the delegations.
- d. Compulsory participation of the executive committee in the financial collections of the delegations.
- e. Establishment of a regulation that a member of the National Executivé Committee cannot belong to any delegation.
- f. Elimination of the Military Secretariat and the establishment of control over military activities by the president of the National Executive Committee. The military section of the MDC is to be directed by a person designated by the National Executive Committee who will formulate the plans, projects; and budget for military activities, presenting them for the approval of the president of the executive committee. He, in turn, will have to inform the members of the committee only about those details which he deems pertinent and which do not compromise the success of the planned activities.
- 10. In discussing the topic, "Nuestra Postura" ("Our Position"), some changes were observed in relation to those approved at the previous congress, such as:
  - a. Disappearance of the attitude of defiance against the United States Government. This was shown by the approval of the results obtained so far in United States policy towards Cuba.
  - b. Rejection of the thesis of the "Betrayed Revolution."
  - c. Optimism regarding a usur solution of the Cuban problem.
- 11. The congress was informed that the National Executive Committee had approved the idea of the formation of a Cuban Government in Exile, although it had the made any commitments about the manner of forming it or the persons who should belong to it.

12'. Dr. Marcos Rodriguez Mener: 32 was appointed as Chief of Intelligence of the MDC. The fillowing three persons were mentioned as possible candidates for chief of the military section: Angel Hernandez Rojo, Edus: lo MartinoElena, and Tomas Cabañas Batista.

Humberto Perez Herrera presented the report of the Puerto Lican delegation, the highlights of which were as follows:

- a. The activities of the MDC delegation in Puerto Rico decreased considerably during the past six months. This, he claimed, was due to the problems of the Christian Democrats in Chile and to the position taken by Eduardo Frei, President of Chile.<sup>4</sup>
- b. The public activities of the MDC, such as the celebration of the anniversary of Jose Marti's birthday and the homage paid to the Venezueian portworkers for their boycott of ships trading with Cuba, as well as the caupaign in favor of a Cuban Government in Exile, had helped to overcome much of the stagnation of the MDC in Puerto Rico.
- c. The Puerto Rican delegation differs from the Miami delegation in that it is made up of Cuban exiles of a higher financial standing than that of the average Cuban exile residing in Miami. The members of the Puerto Rican delegation contribute one percent of their income to the MDC.
- d. The MDC is concerned over the penetration of the Communist Party in the university and other centers of higher learning and some of the terrorist activities of the Communists. The MDC is also concerned over the attitude of the press regarding the terrorist activities and feels that the press has pro-Communist leavings.
- 5. Later in the same session Perez spice of the great value of the Juventud Democrata Cristiana (JDC, Christian Democratic Youth) of Cuba in Puerto Rico and gave high praise to Monteliu and Patterson. However, when there was a discussion in the congress abcut outlawing the Communist Party in a free Cuba, Monteliu and Patterson said the Party should be recognized as a legal party and should be allowed to engage in public activities. When certain members of the Miami delegation opposed this, Monteliu and Patterson accused the Miami dolegation of being fascist.
- G. The report of the Mexican delegation was presented by Carmon Villaren de Guzman and included the following points:
  - a. The Mexican delegation has 42 members. Folations between the different groups of Cuban exiles in Mexico are cordial; patriotic and public events are usually celebrated jointly.
  - b. The delegation is developing a plan for the establishment of radio courses about Christian Democratic doctrine, similar to those already established in Colombia and Nonduras. As a result of arrangements made by the Mexican delegation, it was possible to have a two-hour weekly course on Christian economic doctrine given at the School of Economy of the University of Mexico, where a threehour course in Marxism is now being given.
  - c. Popular feeling in Mexico regarding the Cuban cause is favorable except among teachers and educators; this group is deeply penetrated by the Communist Party. Some favorable change in the attitude of the press has been noted, especially after the scandal in the Cuban Embassy over the Contrabard in blood plasma.5

CONFIDENTIAL CONTROLLED DISSEN $`$

- 7. Carmon Villares proposed that a representative of the military section of the MDC visit Mexico. Without going into details which she described as confidential, she said there was a possibility that armed activities against the Castro regime could be carried out from Hexican territory.
- S. Guarione Diaz Martinez presented the report from the New York delogation. It was largely devoted to marrating the efforts made in support of a Cuban Government in Exile.
- 9. Following are some of the resolutions approved during the cougress:
  - Ecduction in the number of members of the National Executive £., Committee, thus increasing its mobility.
  - b. Establishment of new requirements for being oligible for election to the National Executive Committee, such as having taken a course in leadership or having sufficient leadership ability, in the opinion of the executive committee, without having passed such a course.
  - Increased control by the executivo committee over the C. activities of the delegations.
  - Compulsory participation of the executive committee in d. the financial collections of the delegations.
  - Establishment of a regulation that a member of the National Θ, Executive Committee cannot belong to any delegation.
  - f. Elimination of the Hilitary Secretariat and the establishment of control over military activities by the president of the National Executive Committee. The military section of the MDC is to be directed by a person designated by the National Executive Committee who will formulate the plans, projects, and budget for military activities, presenting them for the approval of the president of the executive committee. He, in turn, will have to inform the members of the committee only about those details which he deems pertinent and which do not compromise the success of the planned activities.
- 10. In discussing the topic, "Nuestra Postura" ("Our Position"), some changes were observed in relation to those approved at the previous congress, such as:
  - Disappearance of the attitude of defiance against the United States Covernment. This was shown by the approval of the results obtained so far in United States policy towards Cuba.
  - Rejection of the thesis of the "Betrayed Revolution." b,
  - Optimism regarding a near solution of the Cuban problem. C.

The congress was informed that the National Executive Committee had approved the idea of the formation of a Cuban Government 11.

nad approved the idea of the formation of a cuban dovernment in Exile, although it had not made any commitments about the manner of forming it or the persons who should belong to it.
12. Dr. marcos Rodriguez Menendez was a pointed as Chief of Intelligence of the MRC. The following three persons were mentioned as possible candidates for chief of the military section: Angel Mernandez Rodo. Eduardo Martin Elema, and Touas Cabanas Angel Hernandez Rojo, Eduardo Martin Elena, and Tomas Cabanas Eatista. un Exil i young Jos.)

Source Comments:

- 1. The Third National Assembly of the Juventud Democrata Cristiana (JDC, Christian Democratic Youth) of Cuba was held simultaneously at the same address.
- 2. No explanation was given during the congress for the absence of representatives of the Venezuelan delegation, and their absence was not even mentioned.
- 3.  $E_{\rm X}$  posito, Monteliu, and Patterson were also delegates to the Third National Assembly of the JDC.

Field Comments:

- 4. Source did not elaborate on the problems of the Christian Democrats in Chile or the position taken by President Frei, which affected the situation of the MDC in Puerto Rico.
- 5. On 2 February 1965 Mexican Federal Security Police seized 14 cases of blood plasma destined for Cuba. Dr. Mario Crespo Cortina, who manages the blood bank of the 20th of November Hospital in Mexico City, and Justo Urbieta Gonzalez, an employee of the commercial office of the Cuban Embassy in Mexico City, were arrested and jailed for complicity in shipping the plasma illegally to Cuba.

SCURCE A Cuban exile with excellent contacts in the Antillean Marine Shipping Corporation.

- On 18 September 1964 Laureano Batista Falla, official of the Movimiento Democrata Cristiano (MDC, Christian Democratic Movement), 1. spoke with Eliseo Gomez Fernandez and Teofilo Babun of the Antillean Marine Shipping Corporation of Miami about the unloading from tho M/V TITANL at the Port of Manzanillo, Dominican Republic, of one 23-foot Viking class boat equipped with twin 120-horse power Morcruiser engines and a radio telephone.
- According to a Bill of Lading dated 15 September 1964, the Antillean Marine Shipping Corporation shipped aboard the H/V TITAN for Jose . 2. Gonzalez, 8255 SW 42nd St., Minmi, one recreational watercraft equipped with an inboard/outboard motor, and a radio telephone, consigned to Colonel Milton Zuberbi, Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.
- According to Victor Gonzalez, a cook aboard the M/V TITAN, Leslie Nobregas has been attempting to recruit persons to serve in the Dominican Republic aboard the M/V SUSAN ANN, a former World War 3. II motor torpedo boat. Gonzalez claimed that she was in excellent condition and had been armed with a 20-millimeter cannon. According to Gonzalez, Nobregas was trying to persuade Viejo Rodriguez, former machinist aboard the M/V SUSAN ANN, to sail with the vessel again. He was offering the crew members $250 a month salary to serve aboard the vessel.
